DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of Group 1, claims 1-20, 25, 26, 28-50, 58-96 and 103, in the reply filed on December 16, 2004 is acknowledged.

The traversal is made on the grounds that it is believed that a single search and examination covering all claims would not place undue burden on the Examiner.

This is not found persuasive because the consideration of undue burden is one that must be made by the Examiner, Applicants' arguments that the search of one invention must necessarily result in a search of the other one has been considered, but is not persuasive insofar as the searches are not co-extensive and additional search would of necessity, be required for the combination of inventions. The requirement is still deemed proper, and is therefore made final. By the election of structure identified by Applicants the following claims appear to form a group commensurate with the elected species for search and examination purposes : 1-7, 9-20, 25, 26, 28-39, 41, 43-50, and 103.

Thus, claims 1-7, 9-20, 25, 26, 28-39, 41, 43-50, and 103 are examined on the merits.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Art Unit: 1713

3. Claims 1-7, 9-20, 25, 26, 28-39, 41, 43-50, and 103 rejected under 35

U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The recited in claim 1 "...and having electrical properties such that electronic interactions extend at least 2 monomer units from their source such that a spectral comparison of one of the monomer units to the polymer molecule comprising such unit demonstrates a change in gap between the highest filled molecular or electronic orbital and the lowest unfilled molecular or electronic orbital of the monomer unit versus the polymer molecule of at least 0.1 eV...” , is indefinite because the metes and bounds of such are not readily ascertainable.

The recited specifically in claim 39 B and D are selected from the group consisting of a double bond and a triple bond is indefinite because the definition contradicts with the structure presented in the same claim, wherein B and d are positioned.

Interpretation of Claims

4. Claim 1 calls for aggregate composition comprising plurality of polymer molecules with molecular weight of at least 7000 g/mol, having specific fluorescent quantum yield, the aggregate is stable in the absence of solvent under specific conditions. All spectrum characteristics of the aggregate will be fulfilled once the aggregate of the prior art is substantially identical to the instantly claimed aggregate by its chemical nature and make-up.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 1-7, 9-20, 25, 26, 28-39, 41, 43-50, and 103 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by or in the alternative as obvious over Swager et al US 2003/0178607.

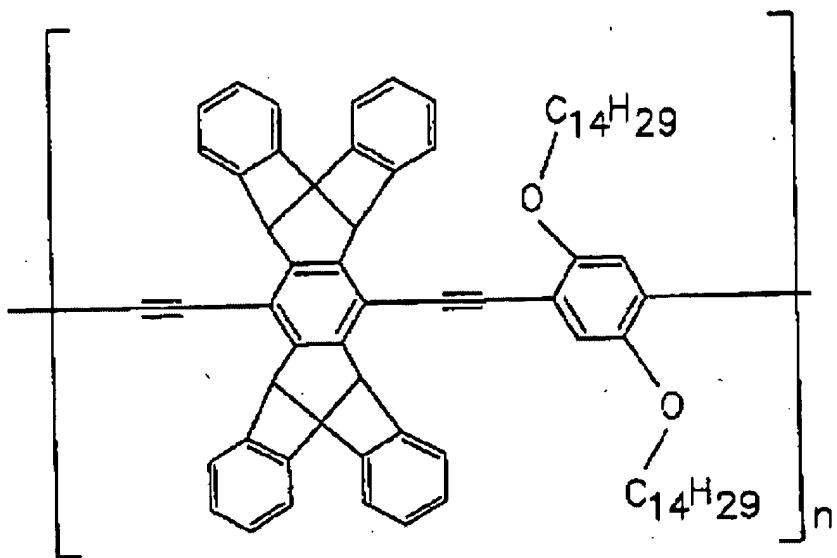

The applied reference has a common inventor with the instant application.

Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

Swager discloses conductive polymer compositions (abstract), wherein on fig.6b(2), 12(b) and others the polymers defined by the instantly elected species are shown.

These species are defined also in the instant claims 39, 41, and found in Swager in the above discussed figures and [0019], [0021]. Fig. 19 shows polymers that can provide charge-transfer interactions.

Since the species is clearly named, the species claim is anticipated, no matter how many other species are additionally named, Ex parte A, 17 USPQ 2d 1716 (Bd).

Art Unit: 1713

Pat.App.& Inter. 1990). The named species also anticipate the claims directed to genus, In re Slayter, 276 F.2d, 408, 411,125 USPQ 345,347 (CCPA 1960).

With regard to the properties that are not disclosed by Swager, the rejection is made in the sense of per In re Fitzgerald (205 USPQ 594). (CAFC), wherein the base presumption is that the properties governing the claimed aggregates, if not taught, may be very well met by the polymers of Swager, since the composition of Swager is essentially the same and made in essentially the same manner as applicants'.

Therefore, the properties instantly claimed would be inherently and necessarily present.

In the event that one of the ordinary skill in the art would not immediately envisage Applicants' instantly claimed composition, then the composition is rendered obvious from the disclosure found in the prior art. The prior art contains each of Applicants' instantly claimed ingredients and clearly suggests to one of ordinary skill in the art that they be used in combination as claimed. Such a suggestion renders obvious applicants' instantly claimed composition, and as such, the claims are not patentable.
